Such personal investigation as I have been able to make has convinced me that a thorough examination and investigation of all the matters connected with the dealings of the Government with the company should be made, including an investigation into the utility of the invention, and its practical virtue. The information received by the National Board of Health indicates that the preventive measures recommended by the board are being adopted throughout the country. In some of the states house to house inspections are being made. in many of the larger cities the health autorities are being strengthened by volunteer sanitary or ganizations, which are bustly engaged in supplementing the efforts of the Health Officers and inspectors, and which are hold in readiness for services in case of an outbreak of disease. The Board recommended the regulations to be enforced on vessels coming to this country from foreign ports, as well as upon vessels carry-ing passengers and treight from port to port along the coast and on rivers of the interior, and for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroad. By the adoption of these rules and regulations, the hoard say a uniform system will be established, and health authorities are liable to concentrate their effort in the event of an outbreak of cholera. The lawless element among these tribes is likely to cross the border, and are apparently already beginning to do so. The Indian troubles in Canada will dispose of one piece of foolish sentiment that has always been held up before our eyes. Whenever Indian troubles have occurred in this country we have been told that it was all the fault of the Government, and been referred to the peaceful and contented condition of the Canadian Indians. Recent occurrences have proved that in Canada, as well as in the United States, trouble begins when whites begin to min-sie among the Indians and the lands increase in value."

RIEL'S REBELLION.

General Middieton Meets and Defeats a Force of the Rebels Composed of Haif Breeds and Indians.

CLARE'S CROSSING, N. W. T., April 25,-General Middleton, with his stall, was riding well to the front with Boulton's Horse, who were acting as scouts, yes, erdsy, when about; five miles from McIntosh, where they had camped the night before, and on approaching two small bluffs covered with timber, about twenty or thirty of the enemy's scouts opened fire, killing several of the scouts' horses and wounding several of them. Between these bluffs, which were about 500 yards apart, is a slece of level and open prairie that stretches back about 1.000 yards, across which runs a deep savine with timber in the bottom, running back in places apparently for a mile. On the west side about the center stands two log houses and straw stacks. After firing a volley from the bluffs the scouts got under cover, when the General ordered up the advance guard of the Ninetieth under Captain Clark. Two guns of "A" Battery then came up a gallop under command of Captain Peters, the guns being supported by a garrison division under Captain Peters and Licutenant Rivers. After firing a couple of shrapnels at the half breeds, the latter retired into the ravine. The remainder of the Minetieth were then sent up. Major Buchanan, commanding the right battallion, and Major Boswell the left half of C Company, of the Infantry School of Toronto, being on the extreme right, had two or three hot scrimmages for the possession of a knoll about 500 yards in front of the ravine. Being ordered to retire from it, the knoll was taken possession of by the rebels, but the infantry drove them out While this was going on at the right, on the left a battery of the garrison division, who were supporting their guns, and a company of the Ninetieth, under Captain Forest, made a dash across the opening and gained the top of the ravine. The remainder of the forces were gradually worked up and kept-closing on the ravine. Meantime the artillery was being moved from point to point so as to obtain the most advantageous position for shelling the rebels in the ravine. They drove the rebels out of a number of houses and set a straw-stack on fire. that private persons are availing themselves of its | The rebels were seen to leave then, seek. supposed superior merits. About sixty rebels were seen to retreat on horseback, the remainder in the ravine be ing unable to do so, owing to their horses being captured or shot. Things remained unchanged up to 50 clock, when there could not have been more than ten men in the rifle pits in the ravine, at which time the General had the troops drawn up preparatory to making a charge and to capture the men in the pits, which was expected to clo e be engagement, as he nad ordered the teams to get ready to move about half a mile nearer the river, in open order, to camp for the night. During the course of the afternoon the remainder of the Tenth crossed over, and also one gun of the Winnipeg Battery. It is expected that the remainder of the troops will cross to the east side

As far as could be seen the enemy left no dead on the field, though twenty-five of them were shot and about a dozen captured. He Passed a Rather Uncomfortable Night, and Did Not Take His Usual Carriage Bide.

NEW YORK, April 25, - General Grant aid not get settled for the night until about 1 o'clock this morning. He received five minims of morphine. and after 1 o'clock he slept at intervals. The sore at the base offthe tengue appeared angry last night, and restlessness may have been the result. Between 6 and 8 o'clock this morning the patient slept most of the time, and when he aroused and his throat was examined there were more favorable indications than yesterday. When Dr. Dougias lett, at 8:30 s. m., he said the General had passed a very quiet night, though his sleep was somewhat broken. So far as the physical condition of General Grant is concerned, he might with safety be removed to the mountains or seaside to morrow, but no exodus will occur until the first of July. That the General will survive the summer is the belief of all those in a position to

General Grant did not take his usual carriage ride to-day. He had passed an uncomfortable night, and the weather was considered too cool for him to venture out. Arrangements have been completed for the removal of General Grant and his entire family to Mount McGregor some time during the latter part of June. The use of the cottage of Joseph W. Drexel was tendered to General Grant this morning, and was accepted by Colonel Grant in behalf of his father. Colonel Grant said to the gentleman who had called to complete the arrangements for the General's trip that if his father continued to improve for one month longer as rapidly as he had during the past few weeks he would be stronger than he was a year ago. It is expected that Dr. Douglas will remain with the General during his stay in the mountains,

General Grant's physiciaus some time ago decided that a change to a dryer atmosphere would be beneficial; that it would be unwise for their putient to spend the warm season at the seaside. Mr. Drexeil has given directions that his cottage shall be put in order for the Grant family at once. Colonel Grant says that he believes his father's changed condition was due in a great measure to the many kind and generous manifestations of public interest and regard.

Declared To Be the Finest Pair of Coach Horses in Washington.

Washington Special: As soon as he disposed of his visitors the Prosident ordered his coupe for a ride, and at the same time inspected the new span of horses recently purchased by him in New York. They were exhibited for him in the lot south of the White House by their driver, whose face was wreathed in smiles at the appreciation of the President. Judges of horseflesh who saw the new pair of Hambletonians declared them to be the finest cosch horses in Washington, and it is understood they have a record as roadsters of 3:10 in color toey are perfectly matched, seal brown with flowing mates and tails, and are half-brothers, five and six years of age. ### SUCCESSFUL IN SUICIDE.

A Swede Afflicted With Congenital Mania

Ends His Life. BROCKTON, Mass., April 25. - Andrew G. Lawson. a Swede, died Wednesday, and heart disease was supposed to have been the cause. Next day among his effects was found a paper written in the Swedish language, headed "My Biography," which gave a long account of his life This biography is very unique in its wording and in its description of the various means tried for suicidal purposes, including shooting, hanging, poison, esting fee when heated, trying to get cold in order to have a severe case of pneumonia, etc. It states that when only five or six years of age he heard his mother tell of going to a river to drown herself a month or two before he was born; but thinking she had no right to sacrifice two lives, the did not make the attempt. The origin of her desire for death was the fact that her husband was a drinking man, who often came home beastly drunk. Dawson therefore ascribed his inherited suicibal tendency to the result of drink, which in a great measure accounts for his abstaining from stimulants. He says that when quite young he tried to drown himself in a ditch. He afterward tried several deathly polsons, but all his varied attempts were failures until this last, when he took a rat poison mixture with deadly effect.

Another Strike on the Washah. St. Louis, April 25 .- On the evening of the 23inst, notice was posted in the Wabash Railroad shops at Moberly, Mo., notifying the men that they would be laid off on the 24th, 25th and 27th, and that after Tuesday next working time would be reduced to nine hours per day. This caused something of a commotion among the men, they considering it a breach of contract made by the company last month. A meeting was held westerday, at which it was decided unless the or erlwas rescinded by 1 o'clock everything should stop, The order not being withdrawn a large body of the men congregated about the depot and in the yards during the afternoon, and by moral sussion all engineers on duty left their engines, and their trains were side tracked. What the result will be if not yet known

A Moberly, Mo., special to the Post-Dispatch says: 'The streets at Moberly are again filled with idle men, occasioned by the laying off of a portion of Wabash employes for three days, commencing yesterday, which resulted in a strike of the whole force shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. One hun tred and ten freight trains have been abandoned on the East and West Divisions of the Wabash, and not a wheel has been turned in the shops. The first intimation of a strike bere after the meeting yesterday was the pulling of a pin on a freight train and a refusal of the engineers to go our after the grievance of the workmen was made known to them. A committee of shopmen remained in the yards last night. but no attempt was made to take any trains out. All passenger trains were allowed to pass unmolested, and it is said that the committee allowed a train load of stock to pass through last night.
